

AUDITION NOTICE

BLACK COMEDY by Peter Shaffer

Saturday 8 February, 10am

A power failure in a London flat causes mayhem, mistaken identity, and general chaos. Set some decades ago before we had lights on our mobiles, this play is almost totally acted 'in the dark'.

Characters:

Brindsley Miller:	A young sculptor. 20s
Carol Melkett:	Brindsley's fiancé. Spoiled, silly, typical vacuous Deb
Miss Furnival:	Middle-aged lady, refined, prim, repressed
Colonel Melkett:	Carol's father. Bossy, barky, brisk, suspicious
Harold Gorringe:	A bachelor antique dealer from the next-door flat. 40s
Schuppanzigh:	German refugee, chubby, happy, cultivated.
Clea:	Brindsley's ex-mistress. Bright, dazzling, mischievous
Bamberger:	Also German, millionaire art collector. Very small role.